The European Board Certificate in Nuclear Medicine proves that the candidate's knowledge and ability in Nuclear Medicine satisfy European standards. The European quality recognition is optional and does not interfere with the national requirements for specialization in Nuclear Medicine.

Candidates

To be awarded a Certificate of Fellowship of the EBNM it is necessary to fulfil the following prerequisites:

- having obtained the title of specialist in Nuclear Medicine before April 30th 2007
- being in the final year of a recognized training course in nuclear medicine in a country which is a member or affiliated to the UEMS.
To be eligible to apply for the examination the candidate must provide proof that they are a trainee in nuclear medicine and that their specialist training will be completed between 1st May 2007 and 30th April 2011.
- having proof of continuing education following national certification
- having passed the full Fellowship Examination

Candidates may enrol for and take the written exam (multiple choice questions) after they have completed at least 2 years of the training requirements necessary for their specialist qualification by their national body. According to UEMS regulations, however, they cannot undergo the oral examination, until their final year of training if being trained in a UEMS member or affiliate member country or for non UEMS countries until for a minimum of three years after having received their specialist qualification.

When calling the Hotel to make your reservation, please ask for the special EANM rate (including buffet breakfast and all applicable taxes).

Examination

It will comprise a written part (multiple choice questions) and an oral examination. Only candidates having passed the written part will be admitted to the oral examination.

Language

The multiple choice questions and the oral examination have to be taken in English. In case of difficulties with oral expression in this language, candidates are allowed to ask for the presence, at the oral examination, of an additional examiner familiar with the candidate's language. This examiner will be chosen by the Jury in order to assist the candidate in correct understanding.

Preparation session

A "Preparation session" for all those who are considering taking the exam is organised with the aim to make candidates feel more confident about the format and contents of the exam. This session is free of charge and will take place on the morning of May 1, 2010. To attend this session it is necessary to register via the web site <http://uems.eanm.org>, Committees, Fellowship Examination, Fellowship Preparation Session.

Applications

Applications should be sent with curriculum vitae including detailed listing of all institutions where training took place with the names of the Head of Departments. A detailed list of the types of procedures performed in Nuclear Medicine according to the Syllabus should be attached. The latest Syllabus update can be found at the web site <http://uems.eanm.org>, Committees, Education & Syllabus, Syllabus. Even if training has not been obtained in all procedures, candidates can be admitted by the Jury if their experience is considered wide enough and includes whole body scanning, emission tomography and therapy. The final date for all documentation to arrive in Vienna is February 1, 2010. Late applications cannot be accepted.

 Download Application Form 2010 (PDF-Document).
